Bulb Prices are Lower this season

We know that our customers will welcome this news. An exceptionally good growing season is mainly responsible for the drop, whereby we are enabled to maintain our old standard of quality, while the increase in the number of saleable bulbs harvested enables us to offer at lower prices.

There is also a general release on items that have been scarce since the war, but which have not been plentiful until now, and we are glad to see them again available in quantity. This applies particularly to Roman Hyacinths and Lilium Candidum.

In comparing our prices with those offered by DEALERS, the advantage of purchasing from ACTUAL GROWERS is quickly evident. Not only are we able to give our customers the advantage gained in the elimination of the middleman, but we can serve them with dependable merchandise with the assurance which comes only with an actual knowledge of the bulbs handled, and this is only possible when the stocks are actually produced by those who send them out.

CALL ON US FOR YOUR SHORTAGES LATER IN THE SEASON

While our main business is in early orders booked for direct shipment from our growing stations, we carry here at our warehouse in New York, a list of such as are offered here in this catalogue and, while the supply lasts, we are able to make prompt shipment as the different items are ready. This phase of our business is increasing rapidly and we have many expressions of satisfaction from customers all over the country.

American-Grown Narcissus

American Narcissus are, of course, the one big exception as regards reduced prices. The trade is aware that these bulbs are now embargoed and that only American-grown stocks are available. Unfortunately, the supply is very short for this season but this is only a temporary condition, and we feel sure that within a few years the supplies will again be adequate to take care of the demand, and that prices will be much more reasonable as a consequence.

We are leaders in the growing of Narcissus in this country and have been engaged in it for several years, our cultures being under the supervision of men with lifetime experience in the business.

We ask our customers to make trial plantings of these American-grown bulbs and to turn to other items to take the place of the large quantities which were formerly forced. We particularly recommend Freesias, as they are in good supply and the prices are most reasonable.

PRICES AND TERMS

All items offered in this catalogue are f. o. b. New York, packing extra. We sell six bulbs or more at dozen rate, 25 at 100 rate and 250 at 1,000 rate. Payment, unless specially arranged for, 2% in 10 days, net 60 days, or less 5% for cash with order. Deliveries subject to prior sale, crop conditions and/or other causes beyond our control. While we exercise the greatest care and precaution to supply only such stocks as will, in our opinion, produce the finest results and give entire satisfaction, we give no warranty, expressed or implied, as to the quality or productiveness of any bulbs, seeds or plants we send out and will in no instance become responsible for the crop. No complaints entertained unless made within five days after receipt of goods. This catalogue cancels all former quotations.

"BUY DIRECT FROM THE PRODUCERS"

WITH the Narcissus embargo now into effect, a problem confronts those who have formerly either grown or sold these bulbs in quantity, for the available supply of domestic bulbs is limited for the time being.

The trade is aware that we have anticipated this condition and that we are possibly the foremost producers of a general collection of these bulbs and other quarantined bulbous items in this country. Unlike many planters who waited until the last minute to get started, we have proceeded only after making careful experiments in many sections over a long period, with a result that we have definite knowledge of the producing quality of the bulbs we are now ready to send out.

But our supply is not large enough to meet every demand, so we urge our customers to order only moderate quantities and to turn to other items to fill the gaps. Such stocks as white Freesias, Prepared Hyacinths and Cold Storage Valley are very acceptable substitutes for the large quantity of Paperwhites formerly forced for the holidays, while Yellow Freesias and Tulips will serve in place of the Daffodils.

Narcissus and Daffodils

PAPERWHITE GRANDIFLORA

As this catalog goes to press we have almost completed deliveries of these bulbs on early booked orders and we now are receiving many letters from customers telling us how well pleased they are with the stocks we have delivered. This substantiates our early belief that we have the finest lot of proven quality bulbs in the country.

NARCISSUS, SOLEIL D'OR

We are growing the true deep golden yellow type and our stock—which incidentally is by far the largest planting in the country—is turning out splendidly. Our forcing tests last year convinced us that our location was ideal for the production of these bulbs, and we can assure our trade the stock we will deliver will be most acceptable.

We Claim to be the Foremost Experienced Growers of Narcissus in This Country

American Grown DAFFODILS

(NARCISSUS)

The American grown Narcissus featured on these pages are produced by us on our own farms on Long Island and by our contract growers in other sections of the Atlantic Seaboard. We determined after careful experiments that some sections were particularly adapted to certain varieties and as a result we have made the largest plantings of the different kinds wherever they would do best. We believe that the members of our organization have a broader and longer experience in the production of American grown Narcissus bulbs than anyone in the country. The bulbs will not run as large as those formerly imported from Holland, but are very sound and much heavier and have shown splendid flowering percentages in all of our tests. Most of these varieties will bloom from a week to ten days earlier than the bulbs formerly imported, but we urge growers to proceed with caution on early forcing tests and do some experimenting with small lots rather than risk large plantings in an attempt to better the early flowering record.

A brief explanation of the leading types is shown below!

AJAX, large trumpets.

BARRI, short cup, usually not over 1/3 the length of the perianth (petals).

INCOMPARABILIS, medium length cups, sometimes 3/4 of the length of the perianth.

POETICUS, pure white perianth, short cups with rim of orange or scarlet.

JONQUILS, small flowers in clusters. Very sweet scented.

NOTE—Large trumpet Daffodils are erroneously called Jonquils in some sections of the country.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

THESE bulbs have their greatest value when forced early, for it is obvious that they cannot compete favorably when the larger later types come into flower. Some of the varieties are readily bloomed for Xmas and others maintain an unbroken succession through the early Spring months.

Their popularity for outdoor formal bedding is well known, and they continue to be used extensively for this purpose in parks and gardens all over the country. Particular care should be taken in selecting the varieties best adapted to the purpose intended, for many have a beauty or value only when grown under certain conditions.

NEW TULIP "SUNDEW"
"SUNDEW"
THE NEW CRESTED TULIP

We listed this variety under the name of Syratia last season, but have since ascertained that it was officially named as above in England last year and was granted an award of merit at the famous Chelsea Show in 1925. This new Tulip has a beautiful two-tone fringed serration around the edges of the petals and is a new feature, probably the most valuable existing among Tulips today. The color is a pleasing cerise red.

BREEDER TULIPS

THE past few years have seen a keen revival of interest in these beautiful Tulips and a subsequent great demand that should not be lost sight of by any dealer in bulbs. Their odd, artistic color make a special appeal to American garden lovers.

Last season our stocks of many of the most desirable varieties were sold out very early, and judging from the early demand this year another early clean-up can be expected, as there are not large stocks available in Holland. We have one of the finest and largest collections of Breeder Tulips in Holland.

THE FINEST IN FREESIAS

Unusual interest centers around Freesias this season for they are most likely to replace the large quantities of Narcissus that were usually forced for Christmas and the early months of the year, and which are now available only in limited quantities.

Freesias have invariably been a profitable crop and this year the prospects are unusually bright. Quite naturally, the demand has increased but we have anticipated this condition, and have provided an additional quantity of the same high class stock as we have handled in past seasons and we are prepared to take care of your order.

The bulbs will be ready in July and August and we advise early planting for best results.

COLCHICUM and Autumn-Flowering CROCUS

COLCHICUM AUTUMNALE MAJOR. We know that the trade will welcome our offer of these bulbs, the first since the embargo. We have only a limited supply this year, but the quantity will be larger very shortly. These unique bulbs bloom in early Fall and the foliage follows in the Spring. They flower readily in the home without planting. The color is rosy lavender.

CROCUS ZONATUS. This is an early-flowering, forcing species of delicate refinement and surpassing beauty. Its earliness and easy growth have much to do with its popularity. Thrives and blooms profusely in a few weeks after starting in pans, bowls or saucers of fiber. An ornament of rare beauty and really a novelty for quick sales when displayed on counter or window. Flowers are pale rosy lilac with orange center.

NEW GIANT CROCUS

CHINESE SACRED LILIES

Our Florida grown bulbs do not resemble those formerly imported from China, as they do not retain the extra clusters which produced nothing but foliage. We are producing a large well-connected solid bulb that flowers satisfactorily and this is more than can be said of the China product. We believe the flowers to be most acceptable to the florist trade.

WATSONIA ARDERNEI ALBA

This is the large, snow-white South African "Bugle Flower," and a most lovely plant for pots and pans in the cool greenhouse. Seedsmen should list and recommend this for conservatory and sun parlor. The graceful branches grow from 2 to 3 feet high, covered with elegant, glistening, snow-white blossoms. Remove the top flowers when fading, and lower spikes rapidly develop, thus maintaining a long flowering season.

FRITILLARIA MELEAGRIS

SPANISH IRIS

TRITONIA CROCATA

TRITONIA CROCATA

This is an old and perhaps somewhat neglected bulb that has recently received much attention as one of the most strikingly brilliant and interesting of Winter and Spring forcing bulbs. It has the character of the Freesia but the flower spike is more like a Montbretia, the stems being thin, long, wiry and upright. The flowers are bright orange scarlet and make a most attractive pot or pan plant, though the stiff stem and flower spike make it a valuable cut flower also. Requires the same treatment under glass as Freesias.

We have been growing quite a quantity of these for the past few years, and have a fine stock to offer of large, plump, forcing bulbs.

Price Per 100, $4.50; per 1,000, $40.00

SPANISH IRIS

These take a prominent place among the cheaper stocks of forcing bulbs. They require to be "potted" or "flatted" very early, preferably September, as they root very quickly and are not improved by a long "out-of-ground season."

We have been growing both these and Filifolia for the past three years on our Long Island Farms, where soil seems eminently suited to them, and we have one of the largest crops of any in the country, just harvested in the pink of condition.

IRIS FILIFOLIA "IMPERATOR"

For two years this great forcing Iris has been creating much favorable comment at leading Spring Flower Shows, and growers are unanimous in their opinion of its great value as a forcing cut flower. It is somewhat similar in character to the old Spanish type, but larger and earlier. The color is clear brilliant blue.

IRIS TINGITANA

ANEMONES

Anemones are becoming a leading market flower—not in quantity because there are never enough to meet the demand, but they are decidedly popular, and those who have been successful in forcing them have been amply repaid. They are invariably sold quickly at a good price. They provide color effects that are unsurpassable in intensity, and a prolonged marketable season for the flowers can be maintained by planting successive batches.

Culture. Anemones like cool moisture and leafy loam, and above all, good drainage to prevent stagnation which rots the bulbs. The best potting or benching mixture is made with equal parts of rich well-manured loam, leaf mold, and clean fresh sand. Deep pans are better than pots, but whether grown this way or in benches avoid all chance of sour accumulation of moisture by providing good drainage. The first bulbs should be put in in October for February bloom, and later batches for late Spring bloom. Give a cool shady position at first until roots are formed, then place near the glass with never more than 55 degrees to 60 degrees temperature.

Our Anemones have been giving splendid results for the past 3 years or more, and we have a splendid crop to offer this year.

RANUNCULUS

The giant French Ranunculus resemble in form a miniature pompon Dahlia but are as brilliant and varied in coloring as the Poppies and Anemones. In forcing them, give the same treatment as Aemones, but they do not mature quite as early.

GIANT FRENCH MIXED. The Californian grown bulbs are given splendid results, and we have several letters from customers telling us of the fine flowers produced. Beautiful rosette flowers in a wide range of colors. Force well and are money makers.

The Ranunculus Bulbs you sent me last fall have been most satisfactory, with a nice assortment of beautiful colors.

MUSCARIA (Grape Hyacinth)

"HEAVENLY BLUE"

This is without a doubt the greatest of all the Grape Hyacinths. The spikes are almost as large as a small hyacinth and are really "true blue" in color. Whether planted outdoors or forced inside, gratifying results are equally assured.

With the craze for early blue flowers, here is certainly one that should be more generally used, for it is easily forced and can be used both cut and for pans. As an edging to the late flowering Darwin and other tulips, this rich blue Muscaria is most effective, especially with the lighter shades of tulips.

Muscari have flourished and are producing monster bulbs on our Long Island farm, 2 and 3 spikes to the bulbs being nothing unusual.

Price per 100, $3.00; per 1,000, $25.00

NERINE SARNIENSIS

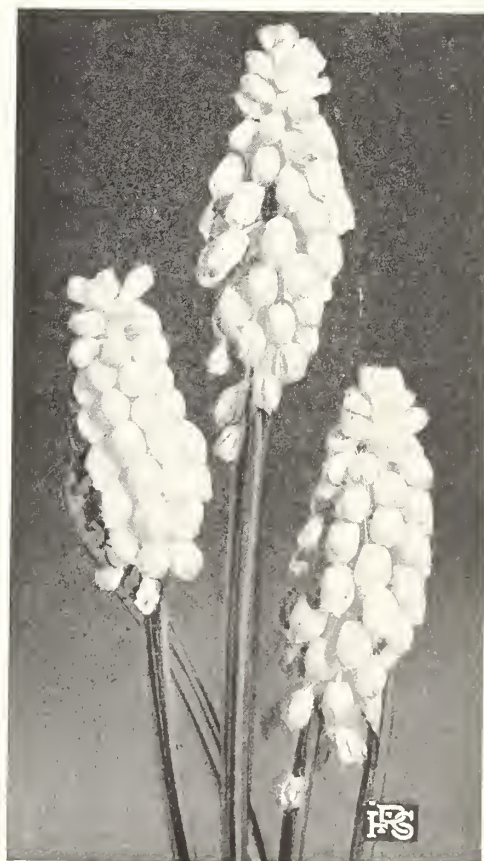

Commonly known as the "Guernsey Lily."

One of the easiest to grow of all greenhouse bulbs, and worthy of a little special effort to get them at their best. Large circular umbels of tubular rosy red flowers; makes an uncommonly handsome pot plant that is a ready seller, the only effort required being to produce sufficient stock to meet with the demand.

Culture—Bulbs should be potted up in July or August, 3 to 5 in a pot, according to size. Do not water frequently until growth appears, then keep saturated until they bloom. Good drainage is essential. After flowering (if unsold) pots should be turned on their sides in full sunlight for 3 months so that bulbs become thoroughly dried and ripened.

Our Florida bulbs have done splendidly this year, which we offer to first comers at

FLORISTS' FORCING EASTER LILIES

LILIUM HARRISII

"Blue Ribbon" and other dependable brands.

The Bermuda Government is constantly seeking to aid the growers in their development of the Lily industry, and this season it is permitting only field inspected stocks of the true type to be sent out as "Harrisii." This ruling will not affect our stocks, for our growers have never shipped us anything but the true type, but it will eliminate price cutting on the mixed Longiflorum sold as Harrisii. So watch for the label.

Lilium Harrisii is still the best lily for the small grower who cannot devote a whole house to lilies. The bulbs are cheaper this year.

We Have Provided an Extra Supply of the Beautiful Regale and Candidum Lilies

HARDY LILIES

In possibly no class of bulbs is as much interest being shown as in the beautiful hardy lilies, and real efforts are being made in the various producing centers to develop stocks that have been available heretofore only in limited quantities. We are offering some of the most popular kinds and our large volume of trade enables us to make very reasonable prices.

LILIUM REGALE (Myriophyllum)

The beauty of this fine Lily is well known and it stands unequalled among those which will thrive in this country. The trade has long awaited a supply of these bulbs at reasonable prices, and we are now glad to have a stock sufficiently large to enable us to make a general offer.

In this latitude the Regale Lilies bloom in early June and about the same time as Lilium Candidum. They have white trumpet flowers with slight pink and other colored stripes on the lower petals and are very fragrant. The bulbs we offer are good flowering size and we suggest that they be left undisturbed for several years as they will then enlarge annually and throw much larger flower spikes.

Trade visitors who have seen our bulbs growing in the Northwest tell us that it is without a doubt the finest lot of Lilium Regale ever assembled in one spot.

SPIRAEA GLADSTONE

SPIRAEAS. While the cool backward weather experienced this past Spring was playing havoc with many farm crops, it seemed to be made to order for the perfect development of Spiraeas, and as a result our crop looks finer at this writing than we have ever seen it and we expect to harvest a splendid lot of roots. We maintain our position as the leading Spiraea producers of the world, not only in the quantity production of the better known florist varieties, but also in the introduction of the newer kinds as their values are demonstrated. We control, in fact, exclusive supplies of some of the very finest of the newer dark pinks and whites. The New York Florist Club awarded us a cultural certificate for the collection that we exhibited at their meeting of April 12th.
